

Student Centered Innovation DRAFT AGENDA

8 am– 9 am

Registration (light refreshments will be served)

9:00 am– 10:15 am

Welcome and Opening Educator Panel: Student Centered Classroom

How are West Virginia's educators personalizing instruction for students? What are the biggest barriers and obstacles to student centered instruction? A panel of West Virginia educators will explore the shifting needs and responsibilities of the education system and how partners can assist and support educators to ensure positive opportunities for all learners.

10:15 am– 10:30 am

Award: Exemplary Partnership for Student Centered Support (TBD)

Special recognition to a specific WV partner making demonstrable gains in personalizing supports and interventions for students. Winner to be announced.

10:40 am– 11:45 am

Keynote: Big Shifts towards Learner Centered Schools

The Lindsay Unified School District (CA) is leading the nation in Student Centered Learning. Tom Rooney, Superintendent of Lindsay Unified will provide insight and inspiration by exploring Lindsay Unified's journey. During his keynote, Dr. Rooney will share lessons learned and evidence based strategies to prepare students academically, socially, and emotionally for future success.

11:45 am – 12:45 pm Lunch (provided) and Student Expo

Networking opportunities at Student Expo showcasing state exemplars of "student centered learning" in West Virginia schools.

12:45 pm – 1:30 pm

Conversation with WV State Leaders: Student Centered System Innovation

Moderator will lead a conversation with state leaders regarding the vision for ensuring West Virginia students are at the center of our schools, education system, and policy making.

1:45 pm– 2:45 pm

Strategy Sessions

A: Key Strategies for Educators

Led by a learner and educator from the Lindsay Unified District, this session will provide concrete examples and answer the question of "how does this work in the classroom?"

B: Key Strategies for Partners

Led by a learner and educator from the Lindsay Unified District, this session will provide information on how business, community, and family partners have been key to Lindsay's success.

2:45 pm – 3 pm Closing Remarks & Networking